James Weldon likes fast rides, wild women, and to party hard—they go a long way to help him forget the premonition curse he is under. He's a tried and true bachelor who's not about to lose his Free Bird kahunas like his brothers. He's been on a hiatus helping his father after the old man's brush with death. But his plans to get back into the game at a blow-out St. Patrick's Day party go awry. James not only can't find his bachelor's groove because a certain Irish lass by the name of Cierra Weldon has him off kilter, but he gets hijacked from his Savannah home to Manhattan by his brother's top security investigator. They want him to determine if that Irish Lass has ties to terrorists. James knows Cierra is a lot of things, perfect being one of them, but she is not a terrorist. That doesn't mean she isn't being used by one. Her association to billionaire Sheik Hassan al Zayed puts her under suspicion. The moment James hits New York and connects with Cierra, a whirlwind of events unfold-- one of them being a premonition about Cierra. He fears for her life and finds himself sacrificing everything to keep her safe. Even his heart that she somehow managed to steal when he wasn't looking. Horses are Cierra Weldon's life. She may have grown up privileged in a castle-like estate in Ireland, but life hasn't been necessarily easy. When she was sixteen, her parents were killed in a car accident. She took over running her father's racing and stud farm then and now, after eight years, she is looking to expand by establishing a breeding and training farm in the United States—mainly to escape her FOUR overbearing, overprotective brothers. She hasn't found the right place. Her current troubles started when she told Hassan she wasn't interested in his gilded cage. She was stalked, attacked, and now her prized racehorse in Ireland has been stolen. She's sure Hassan's behind it, trying to show her how much she needs him. She concocts a fake engagement with James, hoping Hassan will see she's taken, and “miraculously find” her stolen horse for her. James shows up. Not only does her world go to hell in a handbasket, but her heart falls hard for a man who thinks commitment is a prison sentence. They say life can change in a blink of an eye. What can happen in seventy-two hours?
