It's All Who You Know When Working the System

Here's How to Get to Know the Right People

Working behind the scenes to write bills, map out legislative maneuvers and block the opposing party's political moves are hundreds of Capitol Hill staffers. Some old, many new, congressional aides on both sides of the aisle are playing a vital role in the 113th Congress. The fast-paced changes in the legislative landscape can be daunting. But there's one place you can always count on to tell you who's in, who's out, and who is the most effective person to address your cause: The Almanac of the Unelected.

While members of the House of Representatives and the Senate enact laws, it is often their staffers who exert the greatest influence in the lawmaking process. Staffers advise their elected bosses, establish political positions on issues, craft legislation, put policies in place, and play important roles on scores of congressional committees.

Now in its 24th year, the Almanac of the Unelected contains in-depth profiles on key congressional staff members that you will not find elsewhere. In addition to contact information and other pertinent data, the Almanac is constantly updating itself to give you the inside track. Our writers conduct one-on-one interviews with congressional staffers to make sure you know precisely which issues they are handle and what bills will pass their desks each year as they help to craft new or refine the existing laws and codes that govern our nation.

With the changes that have taken place, this essential resource has never been more important or more valuable.

The Almanac of the Unelected is the leading source for information on congressional staff members. The profiles included feature:

- in-depth biographical information
- detailed professional history and educational background
- staff members' areas of expertise and committee role
- up-to-date contact information and photograph, when available
- staffers' own insights as to their committee's priorities and special projects during this session of Congress

Organized by House, Senate, and Joint committee assignments, you'll find both the person you're looking for and information on his or her individual impact on legislation and decision-making. With this Almanac, you'll never again need to question who is the most effective person to advocate your cause.
