Excerpt from Mémorial De Sainte Hélène, Vol. 1: Journal of the Private Life and Conversations of the Emperor Napoleon at Saint Helena

Circumstances the most extraordinary have long kept me near the most extraordinary man of modern times. Admiration made me follow him without knowing him, and love attached me to him as soon as I did know him. The world is full of his glory, his deeds, and his monuments; but no one knows the true shades of his character, his private qualities, or the natural disposition of his soul. This great void I undertake to fill up, and for such a task I possess advantages unexampled in history.

I collected and recorded, day by day, all that I saw of Napoleon, all that I heard him say during the period of eighteen months in which I was constantly about his person.
